Research in Progress

"A Comparative Study of Student Attitudes and Engagement in Sustainable Practices" (On-Going)
This is a university grant-awarded project with a student as PI and Dr. Hartmann as Co-PI along with a colleague from the University of Business and Technology, Jeddah, Kingdom of Saudi Arabia. The team is researching student attitudes and engagement to determine the role sustainability plays in two cultures.   This has value for universities and businesses in assessing what needs to be done to build effective and collaborative   sustainability structures.

"A Survey of Central European National Quality Programs and Standards" (Planning)
A survey of national quality policies is in its initial stage of research with the goal of applying for grant support to result in presentations and published papers.

"Information Democracy and Social Contexting" (On-Going)
An exploration of electronic social contexting and virtual communities in democratic societies and its impact on corporate effectiveness
